NEW SCHOOLS PLANNED, OTHERS OPENED

PLAN "UNIVERSITY CITY" FOR LEIPZIG -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 59, 10 Mar 50

A group of architects in Dresden, headed by Ehrlich, has submitted for public discussion plans for a complex of buildings which is to form the new University City of Leipzig.

Accommodations for the medical faculty are to head the list of construction projects.

Including the staff of the medical faculty, as well as the staffs of the other faculties, the complex will house about 20,000 persons, who will be quartered in eight large, eight-story housing developments. Provisions are to be made for convenient proximity of all social and economic accommodations and the community aspect of the enterprise will be stressed.

The University City is to have a huge auditorium, a club building, a students' house, a theater, and sports and entertainment facilities, etc. There will also be a school, a kindergarten, and nurseries for children of students.

SUBSIDIES TO STUDENTS INCREASE -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 41, 17 Feb 50

The number of students at the University of Jena who receive stipends increased during the 1949-50 winter semester from 1,324 to approximately 2,400. For the same period, the number of students who were exempted from paying tuition increased by 40 percent.

NEW GERMAN LAW SCHOOL IN POTSDAM -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 41, 17 Feb 50

The Deutsche Hochschule fuer Justiz (German Law School) in Potsdam is scheduled for completion on 1 October 1950.

Four hundred judges, state's attorneys, and lawyers will be trained in each course.

SEMINARS FOR PARENTS HELD IN SACHSEN -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 58, 9 Mar 50

As reported from Dresden, seminars for parents are currently being conducted in all people's schools of higher education in Sachsen. Not only the social problems of the child but also his physical and psychical development are discussed. The courses are based primarily on the findings of the Soviet Russian pedagogue, Makarenko.

NEW SCHOOLS PLANNED FOR THUERINGEN -- Thueringer Vold, No 55, 6 Mar 50

Thueringen's socio-economical program for 1950 provides for the institution of 35 new schools. Moreover, building expansions and repairs will be carried out in connection with 35 additional schools and 29 kindergartens. The new schools will be set up primarily in the industrial area of Maxhuetten-Unterwellenborn and in the Schwarza cellulose sector.

OPENS TRAINING SHOP FOR METAL WORKERS -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 28, 2 Feb 50

The second central training shop of the Association of People-Owned Metallurgical and Machine-Building Enterprises in Berlin (VVB) was opened on 31 January by the people-owned Steel and Sheet Metal Construction Plant (formerly Auer) in Weissensee.

The shop, in which 60 apprentices are to be trained at a time, has a forge section including processing of sheet metal, as well as mechanical and installation sections. Adjoining the classrooms are clubrooms and a library. The Association spent 75,000 Deutsche marks for furnishings and equipment.

SCHOOL TO TRAIN INDUSTRIAL WORKERS -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 54, 4 Mar 50

The Vaka plant in Halle has opened a modern industrial trade school to train 200 apprentices.

At the same time, the new work and training shops of the NAGEMA (Machines for the Essential and Luxury Food Industry) were opened by the Central Association of People-Owned Industries.

SCHOOL FOR ELECTRIC POWER SPECIALISTS -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 52, 2 Mar 50

The Industrial Ministry's Central Training School for Electric Power Specialists has recently been opened in Leipzig-Markkleeberg by Bergholz, chief of the Main Division for Electric Power.

The institute comprises four classrooms, administrative offices, and a large central laboratory, as well as thermotechnical, physical, and training laboratories. Fifty-five workers from the electric power industry will participate in the first two courses.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL OPENED -- Taegliche Rundschau, No 54, 4 Mar 50

Mecklenburg's second school for advanced agricultural education has been opened in Greifswald-Ladbow. Eighty students, including 20 women, were enrolled for the first course. After a four-semester course and final examinations, they will be employed as accredited farmers.
